Dear Readers,

Warm greetings to all our readers, contributors and well wishers.

It is a pleasure to bring out the May 2026 issue of Scientia Review. Each new issue is not just a collection of articles, but a reflection of the dedication, curiosity and hard work of researchers, academicians and professionals who continue to contribute towards scientific progress and societal development.

In this edition, we have included a range of informative and thought-provoking articles covering emerging scientific developments, sustainable agricultural practices, environmental concerns, innovative technologies and field-based experiences. We hope these contributions will encourage learning, inspire new ideas and promote meaningful discussions among our readers.

Science becomes truly valuable when knowledge reaches people and creates positive change in society. Keeping this vision in mind, Scientia Review continues its effort to provide a platform where scientific findings and practical experiences can be shared in a simple, meaningful and accessible manner.

We sincerely express our gratitude to all authors, reviewers, editorial board members and readers for their constant support and cooperation. Your encouragement motivates us to continue improving the quality and reach of the journal.

We hope you enjoy reading this issue and find it useful in your academic, professional and research pursuits. We also look forward to your valuable suggestions and future contributions.

With best wishes,

(P.K. Bordoloi)
